FROM THE PASTOR'S DESK

“God consoles us in all our affliction, so that we may be able to console those who are in any affliction with the consolation with which we ourselves are consoled by God.”

- 2 Corinthians 1:4

Last year, around this time, our dear friend, Anne Crowe, cut her visit short due to some troubling symptoms. Upon arriving home, she was diagnosed with Non-Hodgkins Lymphoma. She underwent grueling rounds of tests and treatments for months on end. She was immersed in her own suffering and the suffering of those in similar (and sometimes worse) circumstances. Her church family here in Ephraim, 2,000 miles away, did the only thing we could think to do... we prayed to our Great Physician and we sent cards, letters, texts, emails and Facebook messages to let Anne know that we loved her and were journeying with her throughout her illness. Most Sundays I was able to give an update from Anne's messages. She returned this summer, singing with the choir, hair a little shorter than usual. We could see the lingering effects of treatment but her smile lit up our world.

On her last Sunday this year, she stood up to give testimony to God's sustaining grace in her ordeal. She quoted the verse from 2 Corinthians. Within her suffering, because of the consolation she received from her church family, she was able to console those around her who were struggling. She told us that we were 'champions' of comfort.

What an amazing gift God has given to us! God soothes our own souls when we undergo great suffering, and then gives us the ability to be conduits of comfort to others in distress. No one asks to undergo suffering. It is not something we willingly embrace. But we know that, in our fallen, imperfect world, suffering will find us. When those moments come, we are assured of God's grace and mercy, and we are challenged to use our experiences to bring solace to others. Henry Nouwen, a priest and author, said it best when he called us to be "wounded healers." May God continue to give us grace to be 'champions' of comfort and healing.

Michael Tesh sends his greetings from the Ray of Hope Orphanage in Kenya. "Here at Ray of Hope we are doing very well. We want to thank you for your prayers and support. It is the rainy season and it is cold. We have been working hard on the key hole gardens. We have added 6 more key hole gardens, and now have 10. We have planted cucumbers, tomatoes, onions, dhania [coriander], spinach, watermelons, chili bell peppers, and herbs. We are really working with the kids in their school work and have gotten them some workbooks that will help them. It makes them study harder and helps them to understand the subject. On July 9th we had a camp with the team from North Carolina and Pennsylvania. We had 257 kids come to the camp! The kids learned about the Good Samaritan. The team has helped us a lot. They did a teacher's conference with the pre-school teachers. They remodeled the chicken house. Now the chickens have more space to lay eggs. The chickens have laid several eggs since they moved in to their new home."

Tricklebee Café Update From Pastor Christie

Over the summer our vegetables in Alice's garden have been growing and so has the progress on the café. Thanks to 96 volunteers who have put in over 650 hours of service plus paid contractors, we've installed floors, painted walls, fixed up tables and chairs, and ordered kitchen equipment.

We're excited to start Agape Meals every Thursday from 6:00-8:00 p.m. once Tricklebee Café is open. These will be family-style meals that center on forgiveness and belonging. While the liturgy and prayer are rooted in the Christian tradition, we encourage and welcome interfaith experiences. Anyone is welcome!

Tricklebee Café will host Creativity Nights every Wednesday 6:30-8:30 p.m., starting August 31st. Creativity Nights seek to make time and space for people to come together to create their own small-scale projects, whether that be in paint, textiles, words, or found objects. Anyone is welcome, though space is limited. Please RSVP by emailing tricklebeecafe@gmail.com.

Taylor DeNaples is a new intern at Tricklebee Café. She's part of Lutheran Volunteer Corps and their new Food Justice project, which aims to get sustainable, locally grown, healthy food to everyone. She's also interested in poetry, cooking, and theological conversations over tea. She's especially excited to see how people come together over food to share stories and build relationships that sustain and connect different communities.

Thank you from Unity Hospice:

"Thank you so much for your gift of $726. We are honored and grateful that you have chosen Unity as the recipient of your donations...Each of us at Unity is focused on providing the best care possible for those in Northeast Wisconsin who have life-limiting illnesses. Gifts such as yours allow us to serve more than 2,000 people each year through hospice and over 7,000 people through bereavement care... On behalf of all the families and patients we serve, thank you again for your gift to Unity." (funds from the Beth Chafey-Hon concert)

Bookfriends International is a charitable foundation which exists to provide books to schools in African countries. This fall, a container is being assembled to ship to schools in Kenya. In addition to books, the organization will include handmade, washable, reusable feminine pads for the goal of helping secondary school girls stay in school during their monthly cycle.

The quilt group will be working on these pads and we hope you will get involved! There's a sign-up sheet for our working session on Tuesday, September 27, beginning at 9 a.m. If you can cut, assemble, sew, iron, etc., your help is invaluable.
